History & Vision

Our History

We started MARTA with a commitment to making public transit a reliable service — one that boosts economic development and enhances the lives of people across Metro Atlanta.

Our story began in the 1950s when people first started to recognize the importance of Atlanta's public transportation. They saw it as more than just a way to get people from point A to point B. They saw it as a vital part of the city's future growth.

Conversations changed to action in the 1960s when the Metropolitan Atlanta Transit Study Commission released its report recommending a five-county bus and rail system. The report prompted a wave of proposals for a revamped transit system. And in 1965, those proposals led to the passing of the Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority Act — or as we know it today:

Windows Taskbar icons: File Explorer, OneDrive, Mail, PDF, Word, Google Chrome. System tray: Network, Battery, Volume, ENG, Date/Time (4/7/2023), and a battery icon.

Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority Act — or as we know it today: MARTA.

But we didn't put up 48 miles of rail and 740 bus stops overnight. It took nearly seven years of legislative and electoral work, along with a voter referendum, to gain the support we needed to make MARTA a reality. In 1972, we purchased the Atlanta Transit System, giving us full ownership of Atlanta's main bus system. Within a year we saw ridership increase more than 20 percent across the board.

We spent the better part of the '70s laying the groundwork for MARTA's rapid rail system. With more than $800 million in grant support from the federal government, we began operation of the East Line in 1979 — marking the start of our combined bus and rail service. By June 1996, we completed more than 20 major projects including the Airport rail line, the North Line, transit beyond the perimeter and a variety of improvements to our existing infrastructure.

However, providing Atlanta with better public transit is only half of the story. A substantial part of our work involves driving economic development in the communities around our city. That's why we've committed ourselves to Transit Oriented Development, beginning in the late '90s with Lindbergh Center Station. The idea is simple: build walkable, livable communities that put everything riders could need within walking distance from MARTA. Today, these developments help us drive $1.4 billion in economic activity annually in Georgia.

Although the way we serve this city has changed over the years, our commitment remains the same. We believe public transportation is far more than a last resort. It's a chance to better serve the people and communities all throughout our city.

Our Vision

People taking People where they want to go today and tomorrow.

To advocate for and provide safe, multimodal transit services that advance prosperity, connectivity and equity for a more livable region.

What is Breeze?

The Breeze Card is a long-term use card; is durable; allows the loading of various and multiple fare products; can be registered for Balance Protection; is meant to be kept for future use and reloading. The cost of the Breeze Card is $2.00 in addition to the cost of a fare or pass.

MARTA X

The Silver Breeze Cards are safer than ever, and they come packed with features that make commuting with MARTA simple — like built-in transfers and the capacity for multiple fare options loaded onto a single card.

Breeze Cards and Tickets are accepted as valid fare media on Bus, Streetcar and Rail.

Getting Started

Using Breeze starts with buying your own Breeze Card. You have a couple options for doing so:

- You can stop by one of our MARTA RideStores or purchase a card from one of our Breeze Vending Machines
- You can order one online using breezecard.com

Silver Breeze Cards cost $2 and don't include any fares from the get-go — a change from our old Breeze Cards. This means you can choose the fares that fit your needs rather than using the preloaded fares that once came with your initial card purchase. If you're not sure what our fare options are or which one is right for you, check out our Fare Programs Overview.

Using Your Breeze Card

Once you have a card, all you need to do is head over to MARTA and start using your card. When you arrive at the station or when you board a bus, look for the blue Breeze targets on the rail gates and bus fare boxes. Tap your Breeze Card on these targets, and that's it — no scanning or transactions. Simply tap and go. The reader will let you know whether your card is accepted and how much you have remaining in your Breeze Card balance.

How to Use Your Transfers

Every Breeze Card and Ticket comes with four transfers. This means you can change bus routes or switch from bus to train (and vice versa) without using extra fare.

The way transfers work depends on your travel. If you're transferring from a train to a bus, the transfer will be loaded to your Breeze Card or Ticket when you tap to exit the station fare gates. The fare gate screen will display the word "transfer" to confirm that a transfer was loaded to your card or ticket. Once you board the bus, tap the Breeze Card or Ticket again to use the

The Perks of Partnership

MARTA Partnership Program

In today's competitive business environment, both employers and employees are searching for added incentives – those special perks that make jobs more attractive and give companies the reputation of being a great place to work, while improving the bottom line. MARTA offers a program that not only provides significant savings to Atlanta area companies and their employees, but delivers a host of other benefits.

TMA or MARTA Direct

Companies have the option to either go directly to MARTA or a Transportation Management Association (TMA). A TMA is a transit-based organization that provides a variety of services to companies located in specific geographical regions. Their mission companies located in specific geographical regions. Their mission is to improve the quality of life through green space, recycling, and transportation initiatives. All companies who participate through a TMA will automatically get the maximum discount (20%) offered. Your company must fall within the TMA's geographic region to be eligible. Contact \(lperry@itsmarta.com\) (404-848-4446) to see if you're within a TMA zone.

Any company has the option of doing MARTA Direct. It involves working directly with MARTA to participate in the program. Depending on how many employees wish to participate, the discount can range from 5 to 20% off the monthly pass. Whether you choose to participate in the program through a TMA or MARTA Direct, the program offers great benefits for both the employer and employee.

Partnership Fare Structure

Partnership fare pricing includes a discount of up to 20% on each $95 monthly pass purchased. The discount percentage depends on the number of cards your company purchases. All cards purchased through TMAs will receive a 20% discount. Here's the rundown of discount tiers:

Unlimited Ride Calendar Monthly Pass.....$95.00

Sales Volume/Mth	Discount	Price
Direct 1-9	5%	$90.25
Direct 10-1,499	15%	$80.75
Direct 1,500+	20%	$76.00
TMA All	20%	$76.00

Who's Eligible

The MARTA Partnership Program benefits partner organizations, their employees and the entire metro area community. Organizations eligible to participate are:

- Corporations
- Small businesses
- Governmental agencies
- Transportation Management Associations

Passing on the Perks

The direct financial impacts of the Partnership Program are obvious. In fact, our partners say the program more than pays for itself. But the intangible impacts on your employees are also significant. Here are a few of the partner benefits of this program:

- You can save 7.65% on employee contributions to FICA & MEDICARE
- You won't pay federal or payroll taxes on the value of the commuter benefit, which makes this more cost effective than raising an employee's salary by a similar amount.
- If your company pays for employee parking, that cost will be reduced. Plus, you'll have more room for visitor parking.
- Employee health and productivity will increase without the stress of daily traffic and time wasted in gridlock, leading to improved retention.
- Offering new perks to boost your benefits package will increase employee morale and aide in recruiting of new talent.
- By encouraging public transit, you will be contributing to your company's sustainability initiatives and LEED (Leadership and Energy Environmental Design) certification. Plus, you'll be improving the quality of life for your employees and your community, while preserving the environment

Look at some ways your employees will benefit:

Your employees also benefit directly from the Partnership Program. For those already riding MARTA, the discount immediately puts money back into their pockets. For others who are commuting by car, this program offers both financial and personal incentives.

Employee Perks Of the Partnership

- Employees will save money by not driving a personal car every day, including the cost of fuel, parking fees and ongoing vehicle maintenance.
- Employees who already use MARTA for their daily commute will receive up to a 20% discount on transit costs.
- Due to tax savings associated with the program, employees will see an increase in their take home pay.
- Your employees will be safer on public transit than driving a car. In fact, the National Safety Council says riding a bus is 170 times safer than traveling in an automobile.
- By reducing the stress associated with traffic, they will be healthier. The stress of driving in congested conditions is linked directly to a long list of health problems, more headaches, colds and flu.
- Employees can use a train or bus ride to work and be productive, which isn't possible when they are driving in daily traffic.
- They can save money by using it on the weekends to attend sporting events downtown, visit attractions in the city, dine at in-town restaurants or simply travel around the metro area. Because the pass provides unlimited usage on both trains and buses.

Guaranteed Ride Home Program

To provide you with peace of mind, members of the MARTA Partnership Program may participate in the Guaranteed Ride Home program. If you are unable to use MARTA for your normal ride home due to an unexpected illness, unscheduled overtime, sick child, etc. then Georgia Commute Options can help! The Guaranteed Ride Home program pays for up to 5 FREE rides to your home or car from work each year if an unexpected event occurs. Click here for more information

Students Program (K-12)

Schools in Metro Atlanta and the surrounding communities can partner with MARTA to provide their students with safe, reliable transportation. We offer discounted 10-Trip Student Breeze Passes to schools throughout the area that are valid weekdays on all of our buses and trains.

If you're interested in picking up one of these passes, you'll have to do so through your school. Although MARTA sells the passes, each school participating in the program sets up its own payment policy — whether they charge a fee for each pass or offer them to students for free.

Pricing

Participating schools can purchase passes for $14.40 each no matter how many they purchase at once.

Windows taskbar icons: File Explorer, OneDrive, PDF, Word, Google Chrome. System tray: Date (4/7/2023), Time (2:08 PM), ENG, Battery level (21%).
